The full socialization of the economy and the state, also known as the total socialization of the economy and politics, refers to a concept of mountaineering that consists of soliciting the entire economy, in order to pass the economy on to cooperatives adopting a model of self -management and self-emancipation of workers with the total socialization of the state (of politics) in order to adopt a model of mass democracy where people can participate directly in the state and make decisions in a democratic and collective way. The total socialization of the economy and politics also has its global concept, which is the total socialization of the world economy and world politics, which consists of the world economy being managed by self-management and by cooperatives with people from all countries and regions of the world participating directly in world politics focusing on helping both their own regions and other regions around the world.
